Bob Haircut

The bob cut, which was invented in 1962, is another of the most popular haircuts worn by modern-day ladies. This particular hairstyle is a timeless classic that celebrities adore. The bob haircut is defined by short hair that ends right around the jawline, but there are some variations to this haircut, such as a long bob or lob (long bob) that reaches just above the shoulders, or even shoulder-length hair with choppy layers throughout. ## Layered Bob

We couldn't stop ourselves from mentioning the layered bob! If you like to wear your hair dishevelled, you'll need some sea salt spray and extra-texturizing products. The cut in the picture above is a little asymmetrical, but it would be just as lovely if it was cut one length!

If you enjoy styling your hair, this haircut still gives you a lot of lengths to work with, but it also gives you quick and easy options! Not to mention how easy it would be to grow out of this cut. This is a style that begs the wearer to experiment with new styling products. Try some sea salt spray for beachy looks, or the Relaxing Moisturizing Fluid for sleek looks; the options are endless.

Crew Cut

Due to a lack of hair styling tools in ancient times, this is one of the oldest hairstyles worn by humans. It was popular among men who wanted a low-maintenance haircut that required little effort but always looked clean and nice. Nowadays, women wear their hair with a similar look, which is why it's still very trendy today!

The main benefit of having a crew cut is that it does not require much time or money ( a few dollars for a hair salon). It's also not difficult to style because it doesn't require much effort.

Pixie Cut

Celebrities such as Rihanna and Emma Watson have popularised women's short haircuts in recent years, so the pixie cut is now very popular among young women! The main benefit of having short, spiky hair is that you don't have to spend time styling it every morning because it always looks nice with minimal effort. What could be better than getting an edgy look without even trying?
